Thank you for taking the time to explore
The Astrid in Steamboat Springs.

To me, Steamboat was never just a ski town. This hidden gem in the Rocky Mountains is a true home to connect with loved ones, a destination for relaxation and adventure, and a place to build a legacy to pass down the generations.

My wife, Terrell, and I are creating The Astrid so that your family's legacy in Steamboat Springs will extend far beyond your lifetime. This is the place where we hope your grandkids, and great-grandkids, will create their fondest memories.

That's why I'd love to invite you for a one-to-one call with my friendly team, so we can hear your stories and dream together about your future legacy at The Astrid.

So, strap on your ski boots, friend. The slopes are calling your name.

Warmly,

Nyles Sherman
